MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Citizens and Members of the City Council:

As Mayor of Lincoln, it is my pleasure to present the Lincoln Police Department's 2001 Annual Report. This report provides information on the activities, personnel and accomplishments of the department in 2001.

As the year 2001 drew to a close it became apparent that the use of methamphetamine was driving an increase in some crimes. The Lincoln Police Department has done an excellent job solving many of these crimes and fighting the use and sale of methamphetamine. We will continue to work together with the community to keep Lincoln one of the safest cities in the nation.

On September 11th, all Americans were reminded that our police officers have chosen one of the noblest professions. Serving the public every day with the main priority being to 'protect and serve' is a lofty task that our police officers achieve with distinction. The men and women of the Lincoln Police Department have chosen to take on this awesome responsibility and complete this mission every day with professionalism and honor.

I am very proud of our police department and recognize that it is one of the best in the country. As you look through this annual report I am sure that you will see that as well. I thank our officers for their public service to Lincoln.

Sincerely,

Don Wesely
Mayor of Lincoln

Mayor Wesley
City Council members
Fellow citizens:

I am pleased to submit the Annual Report of the Lincoln Police Department for 2001. Surely September 11, 2001 will reverberate across the ages as a watershed day in our history. Although responding to terrorism has become a major focus for police nationwide, it was certainly not the only significant issue of the year. Among the challenges in Lincoln was drug abuse, especially methamphetamine. Meth labs became a major problem as 22 were discovered in Lincoln, including one that took the life of the suspect in a northeast Lincoln explosion and fire. Methamphetamine was involved indirectly in crimes from murder to forgery. Increasing public awareness and engaging more citizens in prevention efforts will be a major goal in the coming year.

Lincoln police officers made record numbers of felony and misdemeanor arrests during the year. Traffic citations were up steeply, and during the month of December, 267 DWI arrests shattered the previous high for a single month. We continued to achieve excellence in applying technology to policing, with significant improvements to our mobile data system and crime mapping capability--already among the most advanced in the country. We also developed a computer tracking system to collect data required by Nebraska's new state law prohibiting racial profiling, and provided training to all of our officers on this issue. We made presentations to, and solicited advice from, several groups concerning our efforts, including the NAACP, Human Rights Commission, and Citizens Against Racism and Discrimination. We are committed to unbiased policing in Lincoln.

All of us will remember 2001 primarily as the year that America was attacked by terrorists who damaged the Pentagon, destroyed the World Trade Center, and killed thousands of innocent people. Americans have a new appreciation for the critical work done by police officers and we have redoubled our efforts to protect our citizens and our freedoms. This report will highlight many awards and accomplishments, but these represent only a small portion of the excellence that I observe on a daily basis. It is a true privilege to lead a department of such committed and dedicated colleagues as we face the challenges of a new millennium.

Sincerely,

Thomas K. Casady
Chief of Police

YEAR IN REVIEW

JANUARY

A bill that would reduce the blood-alcohol limit for a drunken driving conviction from 0.10 percent to 0.08 percent won first round approval and paved the way for a new DWI law which went into effect in 2001.

The Capital City's meth problem becomes apparent after working several meth related incidents so far in 2001. Warrants were served at 334 W. Rio Road on a meth lab and to a residence in the Colonial Hills neighborhood after it sustained over $100,000 damage when a spark from a lab ignited the home.

FEBRUARY

The police and fire departments implemented Y2K emergency plans after a dampened set of phone cables crippled the 911 system. The system was down for several hours in the early morning of the 15th until Alltel made the needed repairs. Funding for a backup 911 center at the Highlands fire station was approved the next morning.

MARCH

The end of March showed three separate incidents of vandalisms which all resulted in the arrests of teens. The first involved vandals that threw white paint on and burned portions of Seacrest Field. Three teens were responsible for the arson and vandalism and they were arrested. Estimated damage on the field was over $10,000.00. In another spree two Lincoln teens were arrested for shooting out windows of businesses, cars, homes and the BB gun assault of a 13 year old boy. Damages were estimated at more than $24,000.00 in as many as 80 vandalisms in the Northeast Team area. Brandon Zach, age 18, of Milford used his vehicle as a battering ram in a $74,000.00 vandalism spree that damaged several businesses and cars

Gregory Snider, AGE 19 was sitting in his vehicle at 12th & H Street when narcotics officers attempted to contact him. Snider attempted to hit the officers with his vehicle as he tried to drive away and was fired upon by one of the officers to avoid being hit. Snider was not injured and was apprehended a short time later.

APRIL

Coin-operated laundry machines at Lincoln apartment complexes became the latest trend in larcenies. Twenty-eight reported thefts had been logged for the first quarter of 2001. Losses of more that $13,000.00, and damages estimated at over $10,000 have caused managers and police to take notice.

A meth lab exploded in a Lincoln home at 2217 N 67th Street resulting in critical burns and the ultimate death of James Carney, age 41 of that address. This meth lab marks one of the first of 43 meth labs that were discovered in Lancaster County this year.

MAY

The 16th Nebraska Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics began in Scottsbluff as over 400 runners from law enforcement agencies throughout the state cover 745 miles. The Co-Directors for the Torch Run are Sergeant Jeri Roeder and Officer Aaron Moore of LPD. The Torch Run raised $181,000 for Special Olympics.

JUNE

Lincoln had its 10th bank robbery of 2001 early in the month raising concerns among citizens as well as police. The city was on track for a record number of bank robberies for the year.

Ali Al Saidi, age 30, was found in Salt Creek east of the North 70th Street bridge after he had been murdered in another location and left there. There has not been an arrest made in the homicide.

JULY

A month long campaign to put the brakes on red light runners began. The effort included extra enforcement at selected intersections and an educational campaign reminding drivers that “It’s red for a reason, so stop”.

Officer Troy Aksamit and Officer Chad Baehr responded to a call at 740 G Street where they contacted Brian P. Walsh. Walsh, who had a protection order against him, was attempting to visit his girlfriend. Upon contacting Walsh he pulled a handgun from his pocket and fired, striking Officer Aksamit in the leg with one round and himself in the abdomen. Officer Baehr fired a round from his weapon and struck Walsh in the abdomen also. Officer Aksamit was treated at the hospital for his injury. Brian Walsh was arrested for the assault.

AUGUST

The arrest of a 16 year old boy who had recently moved here from Arizona ended the four-week long spree of car thefts of Dodge Neons in the city. The teen was found to be responsible for stealing 12 Neons and up to 20 more cars of different makes and models, almost 10% of the car thefts in Lincoln for the year.

A 71 year old grandmother, Marie M. Hall was discovered dead in her apartment in Southeast Lincoln, the victim of a homicide. Byron J. Weaver, the 20 year old grandson of the victim was arrested for her death.

Members of the department prepared for a busy weekend at the end of the month when thousands descended upon the city for the first Nebraska home football game, the State Fair, and the return of students to UNL.

SEPTEMBER

The members of the police department were shocked by the events which took place on 9-11 and many had to react to those acts of terrorism. On the morning of the attacks police personnel as well as the SWAT Team were assigned to specific key locations in the city which could possibly be targeted if further attacks were to take place. Many officers and civilian employees are enlisted in military reserve and guard units. Several were activated in the anti-terrorism effort and many are still serving their country in military roles both here and abroad.

OCTOBER

Letters containing anthrax on the east coast spur some hoaxes in Lincoln and several investigations into suspicious letters and packages. No incidents of anthrax locally are discovered.

The Lincoln Police Department became reaccredited in 2001 by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies. Assessors from the Commission came to Lincoln to determine if the department could demonstrate that they meet professionally recognized criteria set for law enforcement agencies.

NOVEMBER

An investigation into the management of the Malone Community Center leads to the arrest of Executive Director Chris Godfrey and the closing of the Center.

DECEMBER

A month long enforcement effort by third shift officers to identify and arrest drunk and impaired drivers leads to 267 drunken driving arrests for the city in December.

EXEMPLARY PROGRAMS

Lincoln Metro Clandestine Laboratory Team

The Lincoln Metro Clandestine Laboratory Team was formed in April 2001 to deal with the nationwide epidemic of methamphetamine manufacture and abuse. The team is composed of twelve Lincoln Police Officers and three Lancaster County Deputies. The team members not only work their regular duty assignments, but also take on the dangerous task of investigating and dismantling meth labs. The LMCL team members take part in an exceptional multi agency cooperative effort. The team members work with the Nebraska State Patrol Clan Lab Team, Lancaster County Health Department, Lincoln Fire Department, area rural volunteer fire departments, federal Drug Enforcement Agency and Midwest HIDTA.

Upon the discovery of a meth lab by on duty officers, a clan lab team consisting of six to seven members is summoned to the scene. Once suspects are removed from the scene a plan of action is developed in cooperation with other agencies. Due to the unpredictable and volatile nature of the chemicals present at meth labs, perimeters are established and if needed, area residents and businesses are evacuated. Team members don chemical resistant suits and breathing apparatus prior to entering the site. The team members' duties involve photographing the scene, fingerprinting containers, collecting samples of the hazardous chemicals as well as collecting methamphetamine in its various stages. Samples are then submitted to the state lab for testing. After team members isolate and contain the hazardous materials, the Lancaster County Health Department is then utilized for disposal of the hazardous materials. The goals of the team are to quickly and safely return the victimized neighborhood back to normal.

During 2001 LMCL team members worked 44 meth lab incidents in the City of Lincoln and Lancaster County. LMCL team members have also assisted the Nebraska State Patrol Clan Team at methamphetamine laboratories in Falls City, Crete, and Aurora. The men and women that make up the LMCL are to be commended for their commitment to excellence and their dedication to the team.

Problem Oriented Policing Projects

The Lincoln Police Department places particular emphasis on community policing. The department recognizes the fact that the police cannot effectively deal with issues alone, and must partner with others who share a mutual responsibility for resolving problems. Community policing stresses prevention, early identification, and timely intervention to deal with issues before they become unwieldy problems.

LPD employs techniques to manage its workload in order to make blocks of time available for police officers to address identified problems. The police response to an emerging problem typically involves significant input and participation from outside the department. The department routinely uses a range of tactics other than responding to individual incidents, such as: targeted saturation patrol, bicycle and foot patrol, undercover/plainclothes/decoy/surveillance operations, educational presentations, coordination of efforts with other government or human service agencies, support to volunteer efforts, initiation of legislative proposals, and so forth.

Rather than merely responding to demands for police services, the department employs a problem-oriented policing (POP) approach: identifying emergent problems, gathering data, bringing together stakeholders, and implementing specific strategies targeting the problem. The police response to an on-going or repetitive problem seldom involves only police resources. The police are concerned not only with high-visibility crimes, but with minor offenses which contribute to fear of crime, and negatively effect public perception of city or neighborhood safety.

During 2001, Lincoln Police Officers completed over 200 POP projects in which 49 involved alcohol related problems. The Southeast Team, under the direction of Captain Koluch, completed 77 POP projects to lead the department.

Examples of 2001 Problem Oriented Policing Projects

- Critical Incident Training Manual – “The First Few Minutes” created by Officer Steve Standley. A training project designed to help teachers/citizens, who are not trained professionals, to understand, cope, and survive a critical incident.
- Wilderness Park – This project addressed the ongoing criminal activity and illicit behavior occurring in Wilderness Park. LPD involved the Parks Department, City Attorney’s Office, U.S. Postal Service, and the Southwest Team Advisory Group to impact the problem. Letters were sent out to the homes of registered owners of vehicles observed parked in the lots of the park with an invitation to the visitor to assist LPD in making the park a safer place. The letters served as a welcome to lawful park visitors and a warning to visitors that might commit criminal acts. After the letters were sent out officers, parks department employees, and citizens indicate that many of those that previously used the park for illegal activity have ceased to return.
- December Third Shift DWI Detail – Alcohol and drug impaired drivers pose a significant risk to all citizens in Lincoln. Costs imposed to the City of Lincoln include fatalities, injuries, and property damage caused by impaired drivers. December is traditionally a month of celebration where many drivers, who had not planned on getting intoxicated, get intoxicated and drive while under the influence. The men and women that work the third shift (11pm to 7 am) teamed with M.A.D.D. to have a safe holiday season by detecting and arresting impaired drivers with a “Zero Tolerance” mind set. Third shift officers were able to arrest 242 impaired drivers during December, an admiral effort when you consider the officers worked their regular case load of calls for service along with several felonies during December.

Lincoln/Lancaster County Narcotics Unit

The Lincoln/Lancaster County Narcotics Unit is an example of a “success story” when it comes to drug enforcement. This unit has received a meritorious achievement award in each of the past two years by the West Central Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Region. The unit and a federal attorney assigned to the unit have received numerous other awards over the past five years.

The narcotics unit is supervised by Captain Duaine Bullock and staffed with seventeen full-time personnel. The Lincoln Police Department provides 14 commissioned officers and one civilian secretary, and the Lancaster County Sheriff’s Office provides two deputies. One unit position is dedicated to methamphetamine investigations and funded by a High Intensity Drug Trafficking (HIDTA) grant. A Gang analyst position is also a valuable component of the narcotics unit. The primary funding source for this unit is federal Byrne Grant dollars.

Measurable Impact

The number of cases has increased 75% since 1995, and in response; the unit has increased the number of felony arrests (to include federal indictments) by 197% since 1995. The seizure of narcotics has also increased, as seen in the chart below.

| Narcotics Unit Seizures | 2000 to 2001 % Increase | Since 1995 % Increase |
|-------------------------|-------------------------|-----------------------|
| Marijuana | 153% | 1,522% |
| Cocaine | 344% | 1,428% |
| Crack Cocaine | 562% | 38% |
| Methamphetamine | -21% | 860% |

Lincoln has seen a dramatic increase (2200%) in the number of clandestine methamphetamine labs in the last year, which may be due to our efforts over time to reduce the import of methamphetamine from the outside. This effort can be seen by the increase (860%) in methamphetamine seizures since 1995. It is these enforcement efforts, which have given Lincoln fewer drug and gang problems as compared to other cities both larger and smaller.

Successful Investigative Techniques

- The ongoing work with the U.S. Attorneys Office to indict mid and upper level dealers is a continued success. A majority of our federal indictments are conspiracy to distribute narcotics cases, which take a number of years to develop and involve numerous individuals.
- The Crimestoppers program is a long time success for law enforcement in Lincoln and Lancaster County. Many cases begin with a crimestoppers call or add to an ongoing investigation. The unit has been co-located with the Nebraska State Patrol Headquarters Narcotics Unit for the past fifteen years. Information sharing and agency assists benefit both agencies in the fight against drugs.
- The narcotics unit also provides the public with presentations on drugs and gangs. The unit has increased the number of presentations by 408% since 1995. This educational awareness assists in the total effort towards drug enforcement.

The arrests and seizures, along with the reduction in the availability of drugs, which is reflected in the higher price of drugs, is evidence of the drug enforcement efforts and success. This unit has been a success in the drug enforcement arena for more than twenty years. Dedicated personnel, agency cooperation, and funding have created a “drug enforcement success story”.

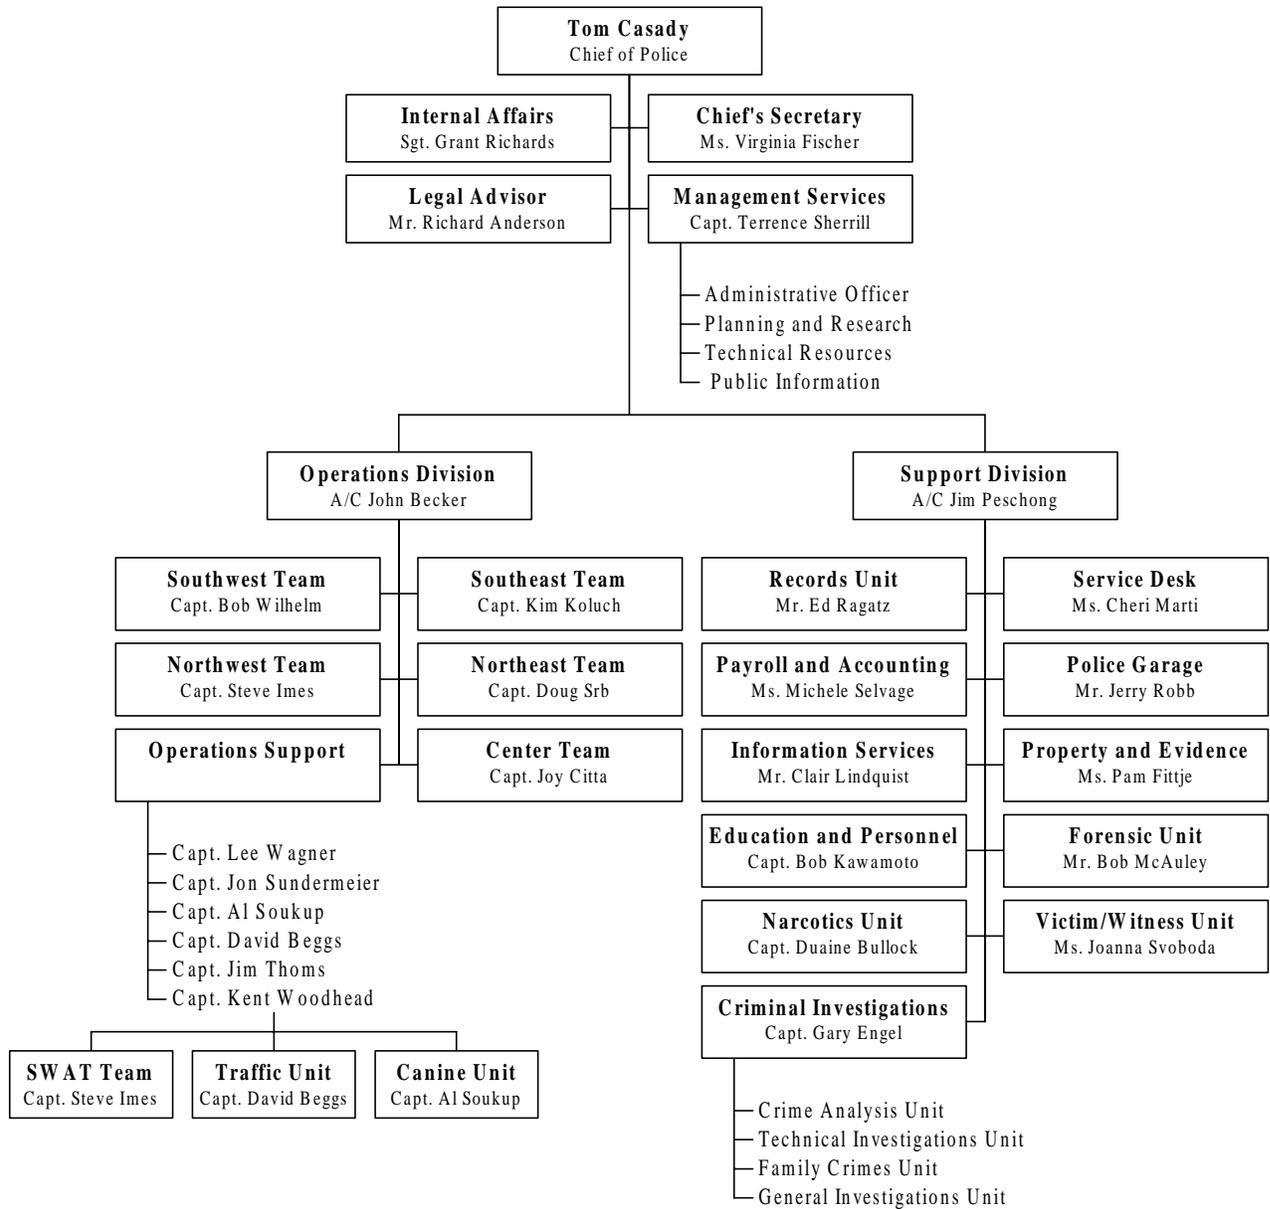

QUALITY SERVICE AUDIT

Since 1993 the Lincoln Police Department has been participating in a survey to gauge citizen satisfaction with the delivery of police services. The Quality Service Audit was developed in conjunction with Gallup, Inc. and it continues to be a valuable tool for both officers and administrators. Officers hired after 1991 are designated as participants in the survey and receive feedback from citizens on their performance.

The QSA is a telephone survey which is conducted by student interns and recruit officers. Contact is made with citizens who have had a recent police contact, whether they are a crime victim or the recipient of a traffic ticket. A sample of survey questions and the responses are listed below from the 3,507 surveys which were administered in 2001.

NORTHWEST TEAM

Captain Steve Imes

The year 2001 brought about a major addition to the Northwest Team, Haymarket Park. The Park is the home of the Salt Dogs minor league team as well as the University of Nebraska baseball and softball teams. The new baseball park created concern for many citizens living in the North Bottoms' area. The residents were concerned about increased traffic, parking congestion, litter, bright lights and noise pollution. Several agencies including the police department worked together in addressing these issues. Many of the issues have been resolved and the department continues to work with the North Bottoms Neighborhood Association to make this facility work to the benefit of everyone.

Personnel from the Northwest Team have also worked with Urban Development and other agencies in assisting the North Bottoms Neighborhood Association in their revitalization efforts. Officers have been involved in several projects to impact parking violations, junk vehicles, and large parties.

The northwest area of Lincoln is rapidly growing and this growth is reflected in an increasing number of calls for police services. Team officers responded to 24,799 calls for service in the last year. This reflects an increase in growth of 3.3% from the previous year. This growth underscores the need for continued citizen involvement in Neighborhood Watch, Crime Stoppers and other crime prevention programs. Citizen information has been very helpful to officers responding to crimes in progress and in clearing cases. Officers of the Northwest Team achieved a 29.8% clearance rate for Part One crimes, the highest clearance rate in the city.

An increased emphasis in traffic enforcement by Northwest Officers resulted in 9,873 official citations and 6,691 warnings being issued in 2001.

CENTER TEAM

Captain Joy Citta

The Center Team and the Lincoln Council on Alcoholism and Drugs combined efforts during the summer to provide information to all the licensed alcohol establishments on the team. Members of the LCAD youth group received training on alcohol laws and Liquor Commission Rules before contacting almost all of the 96 establishments on the Center Team area. They, along with adult employees from LCAD checked each establishment for proper signage and responsible serving practices. If an establishment was missing any of the required signage it was readily available as the group carried all those required items with them. A Tavern Check report card was left at each establishment by the “inspectors”. This was an excellent way to update the licensed establishments without the risk of receiving a citation from a law enforcement officer.

Trying to impact the availability of alcohol to youth at graduation time, LPD and LCAD sent a letter to parents of graduating high school seniors in the Lincoln/Lancaster area. Chief Tom Casady and Sheriff Terry Wagner authored the letters asking parents to not provide alcohol to underage youth during any of the celebratory events planned as the school year came to a close. With a return address from either the Lincoln Police Department or the Lancaster County Sheriff’s office this was one letter we understand was opened immediately. LCAD and the Center Team organized the project and handled the distribution of the letters to hundreds of parents. A more intense effort is planned for the spring of 2002.

An on going effort to impact the number of abandoned vehicles that affect the quality of life in neighborhoods continues on the Center Team. In the three years since this intensive project was started, over 1500 calls for service on the team have been handled by officers and public service officers. A very efficient system of contact, information, and repeated return visits, resulted in almost all abandoned vehicle complaints being resolved in less than 20 days. This has made a huge impact on the ability of neighborhoods to receive assistance on problem areas or properties.

The Center Team Officers have continued their efforts in handling special projects that make downtown’s entertainment district an enjoyable area to visit. Panhandling, safety in parking garages and access to all the downtown sidewalks have all been priorities for the bike patrol and officers on the team. A number of special projects were initiated when special events, concerts or tournaments were occurring in the area. The visibility of officers in the area combined with patrol of alleys, sidewalks and parking areas keeps Lincoln’s downtown one of the most active and accessible entertainment spots in the city.

NORTHEAST TEAM

Captain Doug Srb

2001 was a busy year for the Northeast Police Team. As with most organizations during these times, the challenge for the team was to maintain a quality product while holding the line on expenditure of resources. The Northeast Team met this challenge with success. A few of the accomplishments included:

An emphasis on traffic enforcement - The Northeast Team exceeded projected goals related to traffic arrests. The team also conducted nine special projects related to traffic safety, including an average of one special radar project per quarter.

Expansion of the School Resource Officer Program - An additional officer was assigned to act as School Resource Officer to all eight public elementary schools located in Northeast Lincoln. A few parochial schools are also included in the program.

Development of team staff members - A priority was placed on development of Northeast Team staff members during the past year. During calendar year 2001 at least six patrol officers from the team applied for and were advanced to specialized positions in such areas as Criminal Investigations, Crime Prevention and the Narcotics Unit.

The Northeast Police Team looks forward to the year 2002. The challenges facing the team will not change anytime soon. Meanwhile, the team will strive to continue delivering competent service, while maintaining a community approach to law enforcement.

SOUTHWEST TEAM

Captain Bob Wilhelm

The officers assigned to the Southwest Team are fortunate to work in an area that allows them exposure to the diverse and challenging issues associated with this growing part of our city. To successfully police this area our employees require a variety of skills as well as the ability and desire to be flexible and creative in the delivery of services to our unique neighborhoods.

New commercial and residential construction is pushing the south and west boundaries of our team further away from the historic and culturally rich Near South, Everett and South Salt Creek Neighborhoods. The officers continue to attend meetings of our neighborhood associations, and other gatherings, to hear residents' concerns and issues. Officers attended well over forty of these neighborhood meetings.

Our officers responded to these concerns by initiating nearly 40 Problem Oriented Policing Projects focusing on many issues: larceny from auto, narcotics, alcohol related complaints and unruly neighbors. One such project was directed at Wilderness Park and the crimes which were occurring such as larceny, vandalism, littering and public indecency. Officers sent letters to the registered owners of vehicles observed visiting the park. These letters explained the problems that were occurring and requested their assistance in reporting these and other crimes to the police. This project received a lot of feedback and resulted in a noticeable decrease in complaints of the above crimes.

The team's connection to the community and reliance on their help runs deep. A pilot project took place this past year in which volunteers assisted in the detection and reporting of larcenies from vehicles and vandalisms. This project will be expanded upon and we will strive to find new endeavors to maintain this partnership.

The Southwest Team and department continued their efforts to reach out to the Spanish speaking community. Officers participated in a Spanish reading program at Everett Elementary this past summer and we continued our weekly presence at the Hispanic Center. Offering additional Spanish training increased the language skill levels of officers.

We had an exceptional year, !Hasta luego!

SOUTHEAST TEAM

Captain Kim Koluch

Traffic and traffic related issues are synonymous with the Southeast Team, and with over 380 miles of roadway on the team area traffic enforcement is always a priority. Officer Brock Wagner did his part to make the streets of southeast Lincoln safe this past year by arresting 169 drunk drivers. These are the most arrests made for DWI, by one officer in a single year, in the history of LPD.

Larceny from auto continues to be the number one crime on the team. Officer Mark Wolfe recognized a pattern in the larcenies and football Saturdays when the fans riding the “Big Red Shuttle” to the game were parking their cars in the Holmes Lake lot. Officer Wolfe developed a flier to educate potential victims on prevention by locking their cars and storing valuables out of sight.

Another example of the fine work of Southeast officers involved a rash of auto thefts involving Plymouth Neons, on the team this past summer. Sgt. Mark Meyerson showcased these thefts on Crimestoppers and as a result, a tip was called in which led him to a teen here on vacation from Arizona. Through his in-depth investigation and interview Sgt. Meyerson was able to garner a confession and cleared over thirty cases.

The Southeast Team members continue to meet with members of the Southeast Team Citizen’s Advisory Council to get input on community concerns. This input and advice helps to direct team resources toward special enforcement and projects where they are most needed. On a consistent basis, advice from this group has included a desire to see our team focus on issues involving minors and alcohol. Hearing that concern, Officers Mike Ripley, Melissa Sutter, and Joe Kaufman put together a compliance project to check licensed liquor establishments and sales to minors. This 30-day project used a teen to check compliance of businesses. This project highlighted a need for additional training for some licensees and raised the awareness of business owners to this community problem.

The Southeast Team continues to explode with new housing and shopping areas. With progress and development, come more calls for service and more challenges for Southeast Team officers. We look forward to another year of joining with the public and working together to find solutions for community problems.

The Narcotics Unit works cooperatively with several other State and Federal agencies. Supervised by Captain Duaine Bullock, the members of the unit conduct investigations into drug trafficking and other drug law violations. A gang analyst, added to the unit in 1998, has become an important component of the Narcotics Unit.

The Narcotics Unit was involved in three federal task force cases during 2001. Two of the three involved methamphetamine, marijuana, and cocaine and one involved crack cocaine. During the year, seventy-two people were arrested on ninety-nine federal drug counts. Those arrested are suspected to have taken part in an estimated $21.8 million dollars worth of street drugs. The work of the Narcotics Unit is so impressive that it was chosen to be highlighted as an exemplary program in this publication.
